Neuroplasticity is a relatively new scientific concept that our neurological tissue has the ability to bend or recover from mild levels of insult or damage.

Unlike the organic supplement, this product includes a few organic ingredients yet is composed mainly of chemicals not found in nature.

Best in lightly shaded areas with little to no summer water needed once established.