it has been shown that the defendants appearance can have a great impact on jurors perception health, and recognize that your oral and dental health can have a major influence on other disease processes